About Virginia Farm Bureau

Virginia Farm Bureau is the state’s largest farmers’ advocacy group, representing more than 147,000 farmers and rural families in 88 counties.

Created by farmers more than 80 years ago, Virginia Farm Bureau supports its members through legislative lobbying, leadership development programs, commodity marketing and risk management services, insurance products and safety programs.

Virginia Farm Bureau is a nongovernmental, nonpartisan, voluntary organization, committed to protecting Virginia’s farms and ensuring a safe, fresh, locally grown food supply. All policies are determined by producer members, and programs are funded wholly with membership dues.
